Blaifränkisch Heideboden 2018

WINE DESCRIPTION

Paul Achs returned to the family winery in Gols in 1991 after spending time in California where he learned to produce high-quality red wines and is today one of Austria's best red wine producers. Ninety percent of the production is red wine and all 25 hectares biodynamically farmed. Paul's wines are known for their elegance and finesse.

Heideboden is a flat and gravelly area between Gols and the lake and is a source of fresh and easy-drinking red wines. Gravel soils mixed with limestone provide excellent drainage while warm breezes from the Pannonian plain bring the circulation and warmth required to ripen red wine grapes consistently.

Blaifränkisch Heideboden serves as the entry-level in Paul Achs' range of Blaifränkisch. It is intended to be approachable and fresh tasting. The wine is fermented in stainless steel tanks and aged for 12 months in used French barriques.

TASTING NOTES

Well-drained soil and the warm Pannonian climate gives Blaifränkisch Heideboden a ripe and generous fruit character while also being approachable and easy to drink. The wine is both ripe and savory with ripe black fruit, orange zest, and minerals and with no taste of wood despite 12 months aging in used barrels.

FOOD PAIRING

Neighboring Hungary influences Burgenland's cuisine, and it's not unusual to find dishes like goulash or stuffed peppers in the region, all liberally spiced with paprika. Burgenland's red wines are well-suited to complement these hearty and spicy flavors but offer broad versatility at the table thanks to its firm acidity and savory character.
